Computer Skills:

Received a 1st for my dissertation. This was to create a multiplayer video game of the classic battleships board game. The game was written in the LWJGL java interface to OpenGL. This game was recommended, by my supervisor, to be used during open days as a showcase of interesting student work.

Proficient in web development in HTML5 / CSS / javascript / PHP.

Most productive in Java, currently focusing on C++.

Fully capable with OO programming.

Good understanding of SQL databases and queries.

Base knowledge of OpenGL and graphical rendering principles.

Other interests / Hobbies :

I helped to organise and participated in student "hackathon" events with the liverpool Computer Science society of which I was treasurer for a year.

In my spare time I like to further my coding knowledge through different means.

I have developed games and small programs, extensions, add ons. I enjoy undertaking small electronic projects as a hobby.

I also enjoy PC gaming, cycling, swimming and kayaking.

I play percussion and drums.

I am fluent in French and English.
